

EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION of HEALTH LAW

Call for applications to host the 3rd EAHL Young Scholars Workshop

Reopened call – new deadline: 31st of October 2026

The call for applications to host the 3rd EAHL Young Scholars Workshop is reopened.

The European Association of Health Law (EAHL) invites its Members to apply to host the 3rd EAHL Young Scholars Workshop. This biennial event aims to foster collaboration, knowledge exchange, and networking among doctoral and postdoctoral researchers in health law across Europe.

Universities, research institutions, and other academic organisations with EAHL members on staff are invited to submit a proposal to host the workshop.

Workshop Overview

- Title: 3rd EAHL Young Scholars Workshop
- Date: Preferably spring or autumn 2027 (to be determined in consultation with the host institution and EAHL)
- Location: To be proposed by the host institution
- Duration: 2–3 days (minimum two full working days)
- Expected participants: Minimum 25
- Registration fee for young scholars: maximum €50

The workshop programme should include:

- A keynote presentation on a topic of general importance to the field of European health law and of interest to young scholars, followed by academic discussion
- A workshop on research methods in health law (or other relevant methodological topics)
- Parallel sessions with sufficient time for feedback on participants' work
- Networking opportunities
- A social programme, including at least one informal social event open to all participants (e.g. a reception at the host institution), covered by the registration fee

Eligibility

Applicant institutions must:

1. Have at least one faculty member who is an EAHL member.
2. Provide suitable facilities, including a lecture hall, breakout rooms, and networking spaces.
3. Demonstrate a commitment to supporting young scholars in health law.

Proposal Requirements

Proposals should include:

1. Institutional information
 - Name of the institution
 - Local organiser(s): workshop coordinator and organising team
 - Faculty member(s) affiliated with EAHL
 - Relevant previous organisational experience, and how organising the YS Workshop strengthens the applicant's position in the field
2. Venue details
 - Description of the proposed venue (university campus or another appropriate location)
 - Available facilities (lecture hall, seminar rooms, catering services, technical support)
 - Accessibility (proximity to public transportation, airports, etc.)
3. Proposed dates
4. Workshop agenda outline, and relevance to European health law
5. Budget and funding plan
 - Estimated costs (venue, catering, technical equipment, logistics)
 - Potential funding sources (e.g. local sponsorships, institutional support, registration fees for YS participants, EAHL sponsorship)
 - Proposed registration fee for young scholars (maximum €50)
6. Accommodation options
 - Information on suggested hotels, university housing, or other affordable lodging, including estimated costs
7. Social programme
 - Plans for social and cultural activities that promote networking, including at least one informal social event covered by the registration fee (e.g. a reception at the host institution)
8. Inclusiveness
 - Functional variation
 - Interdisciplinarity
 - Gender balance
 - Nationality diversification
 - Support for young scholars with children during the event (e.g., information on publicly available facilities)
9. Support services
 - Administrative and technical support for organising and delivering the workshop
 - Assistive technologies and accommodations for participants with disabilities
 - Support for attendees with young children
 - Measures to ensure the well-being and safety of all participants
10. Any available measures to facilitate participation

Collaboration with EAHL

EAHL will offer up to 20 sponsorships for young scholars, each of up to €500, to cover workshop registration fee, travel expenses, and accommodation during the workshop.

The host institution organises the workshop in close collaboration with the EAHL Board. In particular, the host will:

- keep the Board regularly informed about the progress of the planning;
- develop the programme in consultation with the Board; the scientific programme, including the choice of keynote speaker(s), is subject to the Board’s approval;

Within this framework, the host retains responsibility for the organisation of the workshop and appropriate freedom in shaping its content.

Selection Criteria

Applications will be evaluated based on:

- a) Potential to attract young scholars in health law from across Europe
- b) Relevance and strength of the proposed programme to foster scientific exchange and networking
- c) Availability of strong local partners for the organising team
- d) Attractiveness, accessibility, and suitability of the workshop venue
- e) Feasibility of the budget and funding plan
- f) Experience in hosting similar academic events
- g) Affordability for participants (registration fee, accommodation, and travel costs)

Selection Process

Each Board member will independently score the applications on a scale from 1 to 10. Board members affiliated with an applicant institution will not participate in the selection process.

The scores will form the basis for the Board’s final discussion. The Board’s decision will be based on an overall assessment and may differ from the initial scores. The final decision will be made public. Applicants will receive feedback on their total score per criterion, but not on individual Board members’ scores.

Application Deadline

Proposals must be submitted by 31st of October 2026. Late submissions will not be considered.

Submission

Proposals should be compiled into a single PDF document and submitted by email to eurohealthlaw@gmail.com with the subject line: “Application to Host 3rd EAHL Young Scholars Workshop.”
