

New application deadline for PhD Students for the EAHL Conference – 18 March 2026!

Sponsorship for PhD Students

Call for Applications – EAHL Conference 2026 (Uppsala)

The European Association of Health Law (EAHL) (<https://eahl.eu/>) aims to strengthen the interface between health and human rights across Europe. EAHL is pleased to announce financial support for PhD students to attend the 10th EAHL Conference, to be held in Uppsala in 2026.

As a scientific organisation, EAHL actively promotes research in the field of health law and is delighted to support early-stage researchers in this field.

Scholarship Details

- Number of scholarships: up to 20
- Maximum amount: €500 per recipient
- Eligible costs:
 - Conference registration fee
 - Travel costs (economy class only)
 - Accommodation (maximum of 3 nights)

Reimbursement is subject to the submission of appropriate invoices and confirmation that no other funding has been received for the same expenses.

All scholarship recipients will receive an official funding certificate.

Eligibility Criteria

Applicants must:

- Be a PhD student during the 2025–2026 academic year
- Be an EAHL member by 18 March 2026
- Be an active participant in the conference (oral or poster presentation)
- Be willing to attend the PhD Workshop on Wednesday, 9 September 2026, 9:00–12:00

Application Requirements

Each application must include:

- A CV (or academic records)
- Proof of PhD status (e.g. admission letter or supervisor confirmation)
- An abstract of the proposed presentation
- A statement of consent to the processing of the data provided in the application by EAHL and the Scientific Committee for sponsorship assessment and provision, including transparency of the results.

Application Assessment

All abstracts will be reviewed by members of the EAHL Board and the Scientific Committee of the EAHL Conference. The names of reviewers will be published. Assessment results will be available only to the committee members and EAHL administration.

The names of successful applicants will be published on the EAHL website. Applicants will be notified by email no later than 5 May 2026.

Abstract Requirements

- Maximum 400 words
- File format: MS Word
- Font: Times New Roman, size 14
- Line spacing: 1.5
- Language: British English
- Unformatted abstracts will not be considered and will be returned

Content and Evaluation Criteria

Abstracts must:

1. Relate directly to the applicant's PhD research
2. Address European health law or bioethical issues
3. Demonstrate novelty and research results
4. Be structured (IMRAD) or presented as plain text
5. Avoid coloured text
6. Include figures or images only if consistent with the word limit

Evaluation will be based on:

- Novelty

- Relevance to European health law or bioethics
- Logical structure and grammatical accuracy

Additional Information

Conference applications must be submitted separately from sponsorship applications. Applicants who have already submitted an abstract via the conference website (<https://eahl2026.com>) remain eligible to apply.

If the conference fee has already been paid, it may be reimbursed (within the €500 limit). Scholarship recipients who have not yet registered may register without paying the conference fee; the conference fee will be deducted from the €500 maximum.

In cases of illness that prevent attendance, expenses may still be reimbursed (up to €500) upon submission of official medical documentation.

How to Apply

To apply for funding, please email:

eurohealthlaw@gmail.com

Subject line: Scholarship

Application deadline: 18 March 2026

For further questions, please contact EAHL Administration.

Help us get the word out—please share this announcement with your networks!